Meditation of the Day:

Called to Live in His Love

As Ephesians 1:4 states, before the world was created our heavenly Father chose you and me to be created in love. Each one of us has been made by God, for God—by Love himself, for love. We were not made in the general sense of humanity but in a very particular sense, called by name. I tell my children, “Before you were made, you were a loving thought in the heart of our heavenly Father, who is not bound by time.”....

God created you and me for a purpose. Our destiny is not based on our talents, skills, abilities, gifts, education, wealth, or health, though these may be useful. God’s plan for our lives is based on God’s grace and our response to him. All that we have is a gift from God. What we are is a gift back to him. Ephesians 1:12 states that we who first hoped in Christ have been destined and appointed to live for the praise of his glory. God’s plan is that our lives bring him glory. He has chosen us, in love, to be a loving reflection of him. Part of our response to him is our vocation, a particular way of service that allows us to grow in holiness and become more like him.

Saint Josemaria Escriva frequently took questions from the audience following a conference. When asked about someone’s vocation, Saint Josemaria would inquire if the person was married. If so, he requested the name of the spouse. His response would then be something like, “Gabriel, you have a divine vocation, and it has a name: Sarah”...God calls us all to holiness, and the path to that holiness includes a particular vocation.... In marriage there are many opportunities every single day to deny ourselves, to take up our cross and follow the Lord in holiness.
