Meditation of the Day:

“Your faith has saved you”

The Gospels show again the deeper goal of the Lord’s miracles of healing. When a woman who had had a hemorrhage for twelve years touched the fringe of his garment and sensed that she was healed, she tried to slip away unnoticed (Mk 5:25-34). But Jesus looked around to see who had done it. He did not want her to leave with just a physical cure. He wanted her to meet his gaze, to see his look of love and enter into a relationship with him. Realizing she had been discovered, the woman approached and, like the healed leper, fell down before Jesus. She already knew she was healed, but perhaps at a deeper level now, she realized what had been done to her: divine life and power had flowed into her. Jesus tenderly reassured her, Daughter, your faith has made you well; go in peace and be healed of your disease. His gift of peace (Hebrew, shalom) is not only the absence of conflict, but wholeness, well-being, complete harmony with oneself and others....

Bartimaeus too received much more than a physical recovery. When Jesus called him over in response to his cries for mercy, throwing off his cloak, he sprang up and came to Jesus. To cast off his cloak was symbolic of leaving behind his former life of blindness and beggary and everything that went with it. The New Testament often exhorts us to put off or cast off the old self—the pre-conversion self, the self before we met Christ—and all the thinking and behaviors that went with it. Bartimaeus’ sight was restored, but even more, the eyes of his heart were enlightened. He demonstrated the perfect response to a healing: he followed Jesus on the way, the way of discipleship, a whole new life of following the Master wherever he leads. Bartimaeus’ healing is an image of what happens to every Christian at conversion and baptism: our hearts are enlightened and through faith we are enabled to truly see what is invisible. We begin to understand realities of the kingdom that we could not understand before, and we gladly set out with Jesus on the way—the way that sometimes leads to the cross, but ultimately to the Resurrection.
